

NAVY 7, ARMY 0, IN THE SECOND QUARTER

TWO SECTIONS—SECTION ONE.

THE EVENING
WORLD
FINAL EDITION

The Evening

World.

THE EVENING
WORLD
FINAL EDITION

"Circulation Books Open to All."

"Circulation Books Open to All."

VOL. LXII. NO. 21,906—DAILY.

Copyright, 1921, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1921.

Entered as Second-Class Matter Post Office, New York, N. Y.

PRICE THREE CENTS

BRITISH CHANCELLOR REVEALS IRISH TERMS

ENGLAND RESERVES POWER OVER TARIFF AND LABOR IN CANADA STATUS FOR IRISH

Chancellor Declares No Special Privileges Will Be Taken From Ulster and That Allegiance of Sinn Fein Must Be Assured.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, England, Nov. 26 (Associated Press).—Lord Chancellor Birkenhead, speaking at a mass meeting here to-day, said he could not confidently predict that the Irish question would be satisfactorily solved.

He said what the British Government had offered Sinn Fein was that, with one or two reservations, Ireland should be placed in exactly the same position as Canada.

"Whether the offer will be accepted I cannot say," said the Lord Chancellor.

"It is very easy to say: 'Why don't you raise an army and coerce Ireland as the only means of obtaining peace?' If such a tragic necessity were to arise no British Government would shrink from the responsibility. But, when that has been done, how much nearer would we be to the attainment of a contented Ireland?"

"Returning to Ulster, Lord Birkenhead said there could be no question of taking any of her special privileges or powers from her, but he hoped that Ulster, having complete protection against any invasion of her powers, would in the near future realize that her interests in other matters concerning Ireland as a whole would be better served by contributing her experience to a central authority."

"The difficulties raised on the other side are manifest," he said. "He said the Government had made it clear that it could not assent to any arrangement which would produce the secession of Ireland from the British Empire."

Later in his speech, Lord Birkenhead explained that the one or two reservations with respect to Dominion Home Rule for Ireland concerned the question of tariff and labor facilities. The latter, he said, was a vital and an indispensable matter. Moreover, referring to the question of Irish allegiance to the Crown, he declared the British crown was a symbol as necessary in Ireland as in Canada and through the empire.

BELFAST, Nov. 26 (Associated Press).—Official figures published to-day placed the number of persons killed in the last few days' disorders in Belfast at twenty-seven, and the number of wounded at ninety-two.

Of the number killed, according to the figures, thirteen were Protestants and fourteen Catholics; and of the wounded, sixty-one were Protestants and thirty-one Catholics.

LONDON, Nov. 26 (Associated Press).—A chorus of vehement protests against renewal of warfare in Ireland in the event the present peace negotiations collapse is raised by the morning newspapers, following the meeting yesterday of Prime Minister Lloyd George and Sir James Craig, Ulster Premier.

Further developments are awaited with keenest anxiety, the newspapers say.

5 BODIES FOUND IN LAKE LIFEBOAT

Four Men and One Woman Believed to Be From Lost Canadian Ship.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Bodies of four men and one woman were found in a lifeboat ten miles southwest of Stony Point, Lake Ontario, last night by the crew of the Isabella H., a lake freighter. The victims are supposed to be from the crew of the City of New York, a Canadian craft, which left Oswego two days ago.

CROWDS CONTINUE HOSPITAL RUSH TO CONSULT DR. LORENZ

Hip Operation on Girl Like One Performed on Miss Armour Years Ago.

CLINICS AT BELLEVUE.

Noted Surgeon Accepts Invitation Extended by City—Examined 75 To-Day.

The crowd of maimed and distorted which to-day awaited the ministrations of Dr. Adolph Lorenz at the Hospital for Joint Diseases, Madison Avenue and 123d Street, was greater than yesterday. But instead of permitting the head of the long line, which reached from the doorway to 124th Street and was four deep, to enter the building, it was restrained at the threshold by a policeman who permitted only twenty to enter at a time.

As there were cases in the line which were in need of prompt attention, Dr. Hermann Frauenthal of the hospital staff and a policeman went along the line searching them out. As soon as this intent became known Dr. Frauenthal was surrounded and it was with difficulty that he and the patrolman got through with their task.

In order to reduce crowding at the next sessions of Dr. Lorenz at the hospital cards were to-day given to those in line specifying dates and hours at which they were to report for examination. At first there was crowding about the window where the tickets were issued, but a policeman got the line in order after a while. Dr. Lorenz performed only two operations to-day. One was upon Veronica Farrell, six years old, of No. 120 Union Avenue, Jersey City, who was suffering a congenital dislocation of both hips. The operation consisted in manipulating the bones in such a way that they were forced back into their normal sockets. It was an operation similar to this that Dr. Lorenz performed a number of years ago upon Lolita Armour. In the operation this morning the physicians watching Dr. Lorenz work distinctly heard the bones snap into place.

The other operation was upon Ralph Gibbons, twelve years old, a newboy of No. 12 West 128th Street, the muscles of whose legs were contracted by infantile paralysis. It had been Dr. Lorenz's intention to perform an open tendon transplantation, but he decided later to stretch the muscles and place the boy in a plaster cast.

Dr. Lorenz was so fatigued by the task yesterday of examining 125 patients that to-day he limited the number to seventy-five. He will do no work to-morrow, but will be at the hospital, Sundays excluded, until Dec. 25. At that time he will go to Chicago for a month, and on Jan. 25 start for the Pacific Coast.

At the invitation of the city he will hold clinics at Bellevue Hospital on Tuesday and Saturday of next week from 2 to 5 o'clock.

STRIKERS DEFY POLICE, ATTACK MILK WAGON.

Don't Get Far, However—Two Men Arrested.

Milk strikers to-day assaulted a helper on a police-guarded truck of the Evans Dairy Company, No. 32 Lexington Avenue, Brooklyn, and as a result Joseph Moran and John McGovern, both of Jersey City, were arrested on charges of assault. The helper, Stanley Zianich, of No. 59 Prospect Street, Brooklyn, was not badly hurt. The attack occurred at Henderson and Second Streets, Jersey City.

Patrolman W. D. Harris was on the wagon at the time and Patrolman Edward Murphy, both of the Jersey City force, was only a few steps away. The driver was in a house delivering milk. The Evans employees are still at work. They refused to strike.

WOMAN SPANKED IN INITIATION 'ASKS $20,000 DAMAGES

"Slapperitis" Wrongly Used, She Avers, and Blank Cartridge Caused Injury.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 26.—Alleging she was permanently injured by the explosion of a cartridge when she was struck with a "slapperitis" at her initiation into the Queen's Degree of Atlanta Council No. 786, Modern Order of Praetorians, and when bending forward to kiss an altar, Mrs. Mexia Osborn, twenty-five years old, filed suit against the order for $20,000 damages in Fulton Superior Court.

Mrs. Osborn said the "slapperitis" was a paddle about three feet long and weighing four or five pounds. The wrong side was applied to her, she said, and the blank cartridge wounded her and set her clothing on fire instead of discharging harmlessly into space.

CHILDHOOD BEAU OF DEAD ACTRESS HELPS ARBUCKLE

Expected to Tell of Her Odd Behavior, Even as a Girl.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26.—The defense of Roscoe Arbuckle, charged with having taken the life of Virginia Rappe, said the case for Arbuckle might be concluded before night, in which event the case would go to the jury by next Tuesday.

The defense was jubilant as court opened and promised to offer testimony which would make the proceedings sparkle with stories of gay life parties. They were to be woven about one pivotal point—a claim that Virginia Rappe was subject to hysteria which caused her to disrobe or tear her clothing not once but scores of times.

Harry B. Barker of Gary, Ind., and San Francisco, an old friend of the movie beauty when she was fifteen years old and living in Chicago, was expected to be recalled to-day. He was to continue his account of half a dozen instances where, in his presence, Miss Rappe became hysterical and acted as she was alleged to have done at Arbuckle's pajama party.

The defense contemplated introducing this evidence to build up a claim that when Miss Rappe indulged in only small quantities of liquor and oftentimes when she did not drink at all, she was likely to engage in most irrational acts as a result of physical ailments which started almost in childhood.

A closely guarded galaxy of pretty girls and men was in the witness room ready to be called to the stand. They are from the movie studios and knew Miss Rappe. Their evidence, if called, will be a recital of Miss Rappe's habits and character statements for Arbuckle.

An extra guard of six-foot police, whose business it is to handle the "toughs" of San Francisco's famed "South of the Market" district, has been called to assist the regular Hall of Justice police in handling the huge crowds that storm the doors daily. More than half of those who apply for little blue cards which entitle the bearer to see Arbuckle on trial and hear the latest model 1921 scandal, are women.

The trial thus far has proved a strange mixture of comedy, tragedy and technical detail. Just as the action starts and the fireworks are ready to blaze, in walks a bespectacled physician and lectures to the

(Continued on Second Page.)

HARDING SOUNDS POWERS ON PLANS FOR ASSOCIATION

League of Nations Not Affected in Any Way by President's Proposal.

MAY INVITE GERMANY.

Foreign Delegates to the Arms Conference Take Kindly to the Idea.

By David Lawrence. (Special Correspondent of The Evening World.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (Copyright, 1921).—President Harding has taken informally the first step toward the perpetuation of the idea of international conference as developed by the meeting of the present Conference on the Limitation of Armaments. Mr. Harding is sounding the powers as to his plan. It is not a League of Nations nor an Association of Nations in the sense that the Versailles Treaty created an international body. No such formal or rigid institution nor such rules and regulations or obligations as the covenant of the League provided are in Mr. Harding's mind, but he does hope to develop a sequel to the first and second Hague conferences of 1899 and 1907 which may benefit by the experience of those two international gatherings and bring about a general get-together meeting of nations at frequent intervals.

The President has about him men like Elihu Root who are familiar with the Hague Conference work and its defects and who can advise him how to avoid the pitfalls of those meetings. One trouble was that the initiative in calling Hague Conferences was left to an individual. The Emperor of Russia called the meeting in 1899, and it was President Roosevelt who was about to bring the second conference into session when the Emperor of Russia again took the initiative in 1907. The understanding then was that the conferences would be held every seven years; and a third conference was about to be summoned when the European war clouds of 1914 gathered and prevented a meeting.

Mr. Harding's first improvement upon the original Hague plan is the setting up of a machinery for the calling of the conferences. Here at Washington that point will be discussed, and it is indeed the only thing that need be laid before the powers, for Mr. Harding's idea is that the conference shall make its own rules when it meets, shall frame its own programme and take action as individual sovereign nations and not as a super-government.

The President feels that the Principal Allied and Associated Powers

(Continued on Second Page.)

URGE LLOYD GEORGE TO HURRY OVER TO ARMS CONFERENCE

Many Messages Received by Premier, Who Still Hopes to Attend.

LONDON, Nov. 26 (Associated Press).—Many messages urging Prime Minister Lloyd George to make every effort to attend some of the sessions of the Washington Conference were received at his official residence in Downing Street to-day.

Although the Premier is unable at the moment to arrive at a decision, it is understood he still entertains hope of attending, and inquiries are being made regarding the sailings of steamships, in order that no time may be lost if he should be able to cross the Atlantic before Christmas.

ARMY AND NAVY CLASH ON A MUDDY GRIDIRON

HOW TEAMS LINED UP AT ARMY-NAVY GAME

ARMY	POSITION	NAVY
Storck	L. E.	Parr
Mulligan	L. T.	Wiedorn
Breidster	L. G.	Carney
Greene	C.	Larsen
Garbisch	R. G.	Frawley
Davidson	R. T.	King
Meyers	R. E.	Taylor
Wilhide	Q. B.	Conroy
Wood	L. H. B.	Kochler
Smythe	R. H. B.	Barchet
French	F. B.	Cruise

Officials.—Referee—A. H. Sharpe, Yale. Umpire—J. A. Evans, Williams. Linesman—Tom Thorpe, Columbia. Field Judge—W. G. Crowell, Swarthmore.

ELBRIDGE G. SNOW, 80, TAKES WIDOW, 45, AS HIS BRIDE

President of Home Life Insurance Co. Marries Mrs. Fanny Joyce Marsh.

Elbridge Gerry Snow, President of the Home Insurance Company, who will be eighty years old Jan. 22 next, was married to-day to Mrs. Fanny Joyce Marsh of St. Augustine, Fla., at the altar of the Church of the Ascension, 10th Street and Fifth Avenue, by the rector, the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant. Elbridge Gerry Snow Jr. and about thirty friends of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Snow, Dr. Grant and the rest of the party went uptown for a wedding breakfast.

The venerable financier and Mrs. Marsh went to the Marriage License Bureau in the Municipal Building for their license only half an hour before the ceremony. Mrs. Marsh said she was a widow, forty-five years old. The first wife of Mr. Snow, to whom he was married Sept. 5, 1865, at Waterbury, Conn., died Oct. 26 last year.

Mr. Snow has been noted among his associates for his activity in keeping up with the details of business long after men of his age usually retire. He has been President of the Home Life since 1903, after serving the institution in various capacities for forty-one years. He is a director of many corporations, including the New York Life, the Manhattan Railway Company and the American Exchange National Bank, and is an active member of many civic and charitable organizations. He is a Warden of the Church of the Ascension.

NEW YORK SNOW MAGNATE LOOKS FOR BIG WINTER

Di Marco Says Italy's Champion Palmist Foretold Heavy Fall New Year's Day.

Celestino Di Marco of No. 239 East 17th Street, who has built up practically a monopoly and made a great fortune in the business of removing snow from the streets of this city, returned to-day on the Presidente Wilson of the Cosulich Line from a visit to Italy with disquieting information for New Yorkers and encouraging information for himself. He thinks we are going to have plenty of snow during the winter. "Before sailing," said Mr. Di Marco, "I consulted the champion palm reader of Italy. The lines on the palm of my hand show that we shall have a big snowstorm on New Year's Day and frequent snowstorms up to the middle of April."

50,000 See the Annual Contest at Polo Grounds—Neither Team Scores in First Period—Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge at Game.

By William Abbott.

POLG GROUNDS, Nov. 26.—The annual Army and Navy football game was played this afternoon in a sea of mud. Long before the starting whistle, heavy showers soaked the gridiron and thousands of spectators huddled together in the vast stretches of open bleachers. The attendance was close to 50,000. Weather conditions continued the special hoodoo that has accompanied the service game ever since 1913, when it was first held in this city.

The grounds were opened at noon. Several hundred Jackies from the Atlantic Fleet were the first in and stood up along the Navy side lines quite unmindful of the rain. The Polo Grounds had been completely turned into a football arena. Extra stands covered the left field bleachers, and out in centre field emergency stands stretched out almost to the edge of the gridiron. The infield had been entirely covered with turf.

ARMORED BANK CAR ROBBED OF $28,444

Armed Bandits Overpower Chauffeur and 3 Guards in Boston Hold-Up.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—Four automobile bandits held up and robbed a First National Bank payroll car in Chelsea to-day and escaped with $28,444 in cash after a revolver battle with guards. The payroll car, a heavily armored machine built for carrying currency, contained the payroll of the A. G. Walton & Co., shoe manufacturers. In addition to the driver, there were three guards.

The bandits were waiting in a high-powered touring car and jumped from the bandit car and opened fire on the machine. The guards were overpowered.

At a given signal the four men backed away from the payroll car, got into the touring car and sped away. The bandit car carried a New York license plate.

BEHEADLANDRU, LAWYERS DEMAND

Speaking for Heirs of "Bluebeard" Alleged Victims, They Brand Him as "Assassin."

VERSAILLES, Nov. 26 (Associated Press).—Two attorneys, representing the heirs of two of the eleven alleged victims of Henri Landru, on trial here for the murder of ten women and a boy, to-day repeatedly demanded the "Bluebeard's" conviction in summing up the case before the jury.

The epithet "assassin" was hurled at the prisoner often during their summary than at any time throughout the three weeks of his trial.

"There sits the greatest and shrewdest criminal of all time," declared one of the attorneys. "Citizens do your duty. Send him to the guillotine," he shouted.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERS GET $60,000 GEMS

4 St. Louis Bandits Stage Theft in Heart of Business District.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—Four armed bandits entered the office of the St. Louis Refining Company, in the heart of the business district, to-day and escaped with diamonds and jewels said by company officials to be valued at $60,000.

Minor Asks Annulment of Her Marriage to Actor.

Eleanor Marsland, seventeen, through her father, Edward Danaher, No. 233 West 13th Street, has filed suit in the Supreme Court to annul her marriage to George Marsland, who, according to the papers, was at the time of the marriage, Nov. 27, 1920, was a member of George White's "Scandals of 1920."

Tickets for the contest never were